To Discover Datopness

To ascertain whether or not a room is damp a kilogram of fresh lime should be placed therein after hermetically closing doors and windows. In 24 hours it should be weighed, and if the kilogram has absorbed more than ten grams of water—that is, more than per cent-the room should be considered damp and classed as unhealthy. The question of the dampness of dwellings is a frequent cause of dispute between landlord and tenant and is naturally solved in the negative by the former. The question can be settled in the future by the test of the hydration of lime, which will give irrefutable proof of the validity of such complaint. -New York Dietetic and Hygienic Ga-

Fads in Medicine.

There are fads in medicine as in everything else and a "new thing" frequently sells for a short time simply because it is new. But in medicine, as in nothing else, the people demand and will be satisfied only with positive, absolute merit. The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has stood its ground against all competition, and its sales have never wavered but have remained steadily at the top, demonstrates, beyond any doubt, the intrinsic virtues of this medicine. The new things have come and gone but Hood's Sarsaparilla rests upon the solid foundation of absolute merit and its power to cure, and its sales continue to be the largest in the world.

The Electric Match.

The electric match is the next important invention promised. Before very long the phosphorus tipped wooden splints now in use will be replaced by a handy little tool that may be carried in the pocket or hung up conveniently for striking a light when wanted. Already there is on the market a gas lighter which affords more than a suggestion of the electric match of the future, a twist of the handle generating sufficient electricity to accomplish the purpose; also there are several styles of cigar lighters which depend for their supply of electricity upon storage batteries. For some years past the gas jets in theaters and public buildings have been lighted by the electric spark. Indeed, most persons have seen the curi-ous experiment of lighting the gas with the finger after a shuffle across the carpet to generate the electricity needed.

The Lightest Substance.

The pith of the sunflower stem is said to be the lightest substance known. Its specific gravity is 0.028, as compared with 0.09 for elder pith, hitherto recognized as the lighter material, and 0.1 for reindeer hair and 0.24 for cork. The sunflower is extensively cultivated in central Russia, mainly for its seeds. But the discovery of the extreme light-ness of its pith has added to its commercial value. For life saving appli-ances at sea cork has a buoyancy of 1 to 5 and reindeer hair 1 to 10, while sunflower pith has a buoyancy of 1 to 85.

It is rather startling to find that coal can be mined in China and sold in California at a profit, says Locomotive En gineering. Several cargoes of coal from Ohina have been imported into California, and it is reported to be of very good quality. Those who are familiar with the coal market say that within a very few years the Chinese coal mines will supply the whole market of the Pacific coast, except those portions where coal is found. The extremely cheap labor of China enables the coal to be brought to the surface at a very low price. Sir Henry Trueman Wood, the British expert in photography, who vouched for the process originally, has recently publicly acknowledged that the process is not an entirely automatic one, as was claimed. 'The operator requires to know generally what the colors should be, and the results largely depend on his judgment and skill in applying the color in the right places."
